Unit 01

Questions 1-3 refer to the following article.

Hollywood – After nearly ten years out of the industry, veteran movie director Schwartz has come out of retirement to create one of the biggest movies of the year, The Burning Bullet. Mr. Schwartz originally stopped directing movies in 1999 to take care of his sick wife, who has recovered from her illness. The Burning Bullet is a thrilling sci-fi movie and stars some of Hollywood's most famous actors. The storyline is based around the search for life on other planets and is intriguing throughout the entire film. The characters are also well developed, and viewers will be gripped by the plight of the main protagonist, Johnny Thunders. The special effects in this movie break new ground. The Burning Bullet is sure to do well at the upcoming awards ceremony next week.

Questions 1-3 refer to the following announcement.

University of London
Student Open Day – July 2

The University of London would like to invite prospective students to visit the university for the weekend. During your visit here, you will be able to stay on campus and experience student life first hand.

There is a small charge of £30 for the open day, which covers your transportation, food, and accommodations for the entire weekend. (There is an additional £5 charge if you require bed sheets.) On the weekend, you will be taken on a tour of the Science Department, where you will be able to examine the world-class facilities that we have. You will also be able to talk directly to professors and current students about their experiences at the university. At the end of the weekend, the vice chancellor of the university will give a speech in the auditorium.

There are 1,000 places available for this weekend. To book your place, please call 1-800-3920-0294 or visit our Web site at www.londonuni.ac.uk.
