I agree with the statement that taking online classess has more advantages than disadvantages. Here are some reasons to support my opinion. First of all, nowdays, many people have easy access to the Internet through their smart phones or tablets. So, in this regard, people can easily take online classes at anytime, from anywhere without attending classess in person as long as they have an Internet connection. So, they can plan their study time according to their schedules and convenience. In addition, as you know, online classes are cheaper than offline classes like school classes. For example, in my case, I usually take online English classes because online English classes are cheaper than other offline classes. For these reasons, I agree with the statement.
