❖ Full Response

Well, personally, I think it's a good idea to open a café inside the lobby of the campus library. And, I feel this way for a couple of reasons. First of all, there are some benefits of opening a café inside the lobby of the campus library. To be more specific, as long as students have access to the café, they can obtain all kinds of edible foods and drinks. Another reason is that opening a café inside the library is also helpful in numerous ways. What I mean is that by opening a café inside the library, students can have a place to socialize with various people, which can improve their social skills and broaden their relationship. So, this is why I support the plan.

❖ Convenience Template

1. Task 3 Question

❖ 구성

-Reading: 45 Seconds Announcement or Letter

-Listening: Conversation → 중심화자의 의견+이유를 요약

Dear Editor,

Renovations on the campus library were completed last month, and the new layout makes much better use of available space. However, I feel that an important detail has been overlooked. Before the renovation, there were many murals painted on the walls, but they have all been removed or covered up. In order to make the building seem less institutional and more comfortable, I recommend that the library hang artworks by students currently studying fine arts at this university. Not only will this improve the library's appearance, but it will also provide the students with an opportunity to display their work to the public.

Alistair Wellman

Now listen to a conversation.

❖ Listening Script

M: Have you been to the library since it reopened?

W: No, why?

M: Well, I was just over there, and it seems more spacious, but not in a good way. It seems empty.

W: Hmm...I read an article that made that same point this morning. Now where did I put that newspaper... Here it is! A student named Alistair Wellman wrote a letter to the editor. He talked about hanging artworks by students to solve that problem.

M: Did he? Let me see that. Yes, I think he has a point. There were murals before the renovation. But they were very old and faded. Where do the students display their artwork currently?

W: There is an art gallery on the top floor of Carter Hall, but no one other than art students goes there. It's the farthest building from the center of campus.

M: There's a gallery on campus? I had no idea.

W: Exactly. I agree with this guy. Hanging art in the library will make it a better place to study while it gives the art students exposure at the same time.

M: Yes, it would, but...not all of the art that students produce would be acceptable. I mean, some of it depicts rather controversial subject matter.

W: That is true, but I'm sure they would set up some kind of selection process to exclude anything too questionable or obscene.

M: You're probably right.

❖ Question

The students are discussing hanging artworks in the reopened school library. State the woman's opinion and explain the reasons she gives for holding that opinion.

-According to the woman

-Another reason she mentions is that

-She explains that

-Therefore, the woman opposes the idea of the letter.

❖ Full Response

The student in the letter suggests that the library hang artworks by students currently studying fine arts at this university. And, the woman in the conversation is fully in support with the idea. And, she feels this way for a couple of reasons. Her first reason is that students can have an opportunity to show their work. According to the woman no one goes to the current art gallery. As a result, hanging artworks by students will make the library a better place to study and give art students exposure at the same time. Another reason she mentions is that she is not concerned about controversial subject matters. She explains that the school will set up a selection process to exclude anything controversial. Therefore, the woman supports the idea of the letter.
