Unit 07

Questions 1-3 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hello. I'd like a ticket for the 3 o'clock theater show, please.

W: I'm sorry, but the tickets for that show have already sold out.
Saturday afternoon is our busiest time.

M: Oh, I understand. Are there any tickets left for other times?

W: We have some tickets left for the 7 o'clock show. However,
I would recommend coming to tomorrow's show
as the tickets will be half price.

Unit 07

Questions 13-15 refer to the following conversation.

W: Mark, I think I know a less expensive way to order our office supplies.

M: Really?

W: Yes. I came across this site on the Internet, and their prices are 30 percent lower than our current supplier.

M: Hmm... but you have to keep in mind that even though online stores offer cheaper prices, they charge a lot for shipping.

W: Well, that's only on small orders. This store doesn't charge for delivery on bulk purchases of over $300.

M: But that doesn't really apply to us since that's a lot more than we usually purchase at one time.

W: I didn't think about that.

M: If we're going to order that much at once, we'll have to get the staff to complete the request forms ahead of time.

Unit 07

Questions 16-18 refer to the following conversation and chart.

W: Hi, Neil. How is the construction proposal for Tafcon Corporation's new headquarters coming along? We should send it to them soon if we're going to start the project next month.

M: Well, I talked to our supplier last night about the concrete cost, and they raised it to $80 per cubic yard.

W: Hmm... that would definitely put us over budget.

M: Well, I researched other suppliers as well. If you look at this chart, Tonk is the most affordable.

W: Actually, Tonk's materials have been known to be unreliable, so I think we should consider contacting Favro instead.

M: OK, I'll give them a call right now.
