Unit 08

Questions 1-3 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hi, Ms. Clarke. Did you complete the final blueprints for the Millennium Civil Tower? I need to present them to the construction company at the meeting tomorrow afternoon.

W: I'm almost finished. I had to discuss some issues with the senior engineer, so it's taken a little longer than I expected. Can you give them the first draft of blueprints instead? The construction team should understand the general idea of the project.

M: Actually, I need to give them the final blueprints. To avoid delays, the construction team needs to be fully prepared. Is it possible that you might be able to finish them by the end of today?

W: I doubt it. If you come back first thing in the morning, they should hopefully be finished.

Unit 08

Questions 7-9 refer to the following conversation.

W: The department supervisor just informed me that Mr. Turner will be transferring to the Berlin office next month. It's quite a surprise, considering that he only joined the company a few months ago. I doubt he knows enough about our products and services yet.

M: You're probably right, but he's going to be in charge of the human resources department there. He worked for a European human resources firm before joining our company, so he has had some experience.

W: Oh, I was not aware of that. Anyway, he'll have a hard job over there. Our company is really trying to expand the Berlin office these days.

Unit 09

Questions 13-15 refer to the following conversation with three speakers.

W1: Hi, we're looking for a particular type of shoes.

We wanted to buy it as a gift for our friend.

W2: Yeah. I also heard that your store has a huge selection of footwear.

M: That's right. And you came at the perfect time, too. Everything is thirty percent off this week. So, what brand do you have in mind?

W1: They're called X-Trainers.

W2: Actually, we've been looking for them everywhere, but no store seems to carry them.

M: Well, you're in luck because we have them.

W1: Wow! That's great news.

M: If you let me know the size you are looking for, I'll bring out a pair for you to see.
